RE: Letter of Recommendation for Giselle Aguilar

To Whom It May Concern,

Giselle Aguilar is the Spanish instructor for advanced and native Spanish-speaking students at QSI International School of Belize (herein, QSI Belize) in Belmopan, Belize. QSI Belize's program is pre-K through 12th grade. The school is attended by students whose parents work for embassies, NGOs, and local and international businesses. QSI Belize is a candidate school for accreditation with Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools. Giselle has worked for the school since Spring 2017. Before that time, she was a volunteer.

Giselle designs her lessons with the QSI curriculum and student needs in mind. She offers enriching classroom instruction that challenges her advanced students; differentiated as well for those who require scaffolding in learning.

She has offered much time to the school freely, she consistently communicates with the school's director and the parents of her students, and she is quickly earning the respect of her students and professional peers.

I've had the pleasure of knowing Giselle for the last year. She is a diligent worker, a conscientious teacher, and a model employee. She is well-suited to teach in person or online, and students that are fortunate enough to have her as an instructor will immediately reap benefits from her meticulous, clear, and focused instruction. Additionally, she demonstrates great patience and care for her students.

She is a very adept teacher. I highly recommend her as an instructor in language training, whether it is Spanish or English as a second language.

With regards,

Gregory Sedmak
